

TO CALL WITNESSES IN NEW HAVEN R. R. CASE

To Testify Into Financial Operations of Billard Co.
With Former Concern

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—All real-estate witnesses in the interstate commerce commission inquiry into financial operations of the Billard company of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad have agreed to testify fully concerning the facts in their possession and to produce the books and papers of the Billard company, of the commission, today received from Homer S. Cunningham, attorney for two of the witnesses, Hemminger and Morison, a telegram saying that his clients would respond to questions. Another telegram from Henry Stoddard, representing Whipple & Field, gave assurance that the clients not only would testify concerning the matters to which a week ago they refused to answer, but also would produce books and other documents of the Billard company desired by the commission. Confronted by indignant and criminal prosecution, the witnesses concluded not to press their contention that questions asked constituted an invasion of their personal rights.

It is known that the federal grand jury yesterday voted indictments against the four named witnesses. In view of the acquiescence of the men in the demand of the commission for the information the indictments make no return to the court. Meantime the indictments probably will be held in suspension.

Bold Robber Locks Door From Outside And Loots Window

Novel and Successful Method of Robbery Tried on Jewelry Store

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
NEW YORK, April 17.—Six customers, one of them being Nat Goodwin, were looking over jewelry in Rosen's curiosity shop, 1364 Broadway, Thursday, when a young man, wearing a raincoat and soft hat, appeared outside the show window.
The man entered the vestibule, drew a long chain and padlock from his pocket, made a loop in the chain and, placing it around the door knob, drew it taut to an iron bar, fastening the door so it could not be opened from the inside. To make sure the chain would not slip, he put a padlock on it.
Because of the storm not many persons were on Broadway at the time. After chaining the door the man stepped outside and looked into the window, where were many trays of jewelry.
The man then threw a brick through the show window. The breaking of glass did not sound loudly on the street, but the crash startled the person in the store. The man then calmly helped himself to the most valuable jewelry in the window.
The customers and clerks screamed. Several of the men sounded police whistles. The robber continued to stuff diamond rings and other valuable articles into his pocket.
Patrolman Turdick was half a block away and heard the whistles. As came up the man dashed to the Sheridan building, at 1353 Broadway, which runs through to Sixth avenue, and disappeared.

Turdick said it was impossible for him to name an accurate figure, but between $10,000 and $20,000 worth of diamonds and other jewelry was stolen.

LOCKER CLUB MANAGER GETS 30 DAYS' SENTENCE

A. R. Smith, of Metropolitan, Is Also Fined $200 by Judge Broyles

A. R. Smith, manager of the Metropolitan club, was fined $200 in Judge Broyles' police court, Friday morning, and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the stockade. He was also bound over to the higher courts under $1,000 bond on the charge of violating section 1489 of the state code against having or loaning liquor for purposes of illegal sale. Smith was upon his trial for him on December 6 of last year. They were dismissed after some days, the charges, withholding the privilege of reopening them at any time the missing witness for the state could be found.

W. C. Jones was that witness. He disappeared before he could be taken into custody by the detectives to repeat the story he had told them. Since for him was made far and wide, and detective went to Memphis and Nashville on a hunt for him.

Several days ago, it developed Friday, Jones turned up, and was taken in charge immediately by the detectives. In the cells of the old juvenile ward at headquarters, which have been used for several years and are in an isolated wing of the building. From that detention he was taken into court Friday morning. He swore he had bought liquor from the Metropolitan club.

The defense, represented by Attorney James L. Key, contended that Smith was at home and under the care of a physician when Jones said he bought the liquor from the Metropolitan club. Responsible therefore for anything that occurred at the club then even if the allegation was true.

Immediately after this case was finished, the companion case against A. R. Smith, manager of the Theatrical club, was called. This was an old case which had been held up until Jones, the witness, could be found.

The record case tried was that of H. R. Smith, of the Theatrical club, who was fined $200 or thirty days by Recorder Broyles and bound over under $1,000 bond.

Following this case, Attorney James L. Key, who represented A. R. Smith, and the Metropolitan club, asked the judge that his client's sentence be reduced to the same as H. R. Smith's, $200 or thirty days, instead of $200 and thirty days. The recorder refused to this.

R. R. Green, of the Eagles club, was the next to be placed on trial. He was represented by Attorney Adair Chambers. C. C. Raoul and William W. Pratt, defendants for the Owls club, were to follow Green.

Green was fined $200 or thirty days and bound over under $1,000 bond. The cases of Raoul and Pratt were postponed until Friday afternoon.

At the conclusion of the hearings Friday morning W. C. Jones, the star witness against the Metropolitan club, was taken away by Detectives Moon and Patrick, and is believed to have been lodged in the old juvenile court room.

COXEY'S SMALL ARMY CONTINUES ITS MARCH

15 Men Comprise Rank and File—Scouts Scour Brick Yards for Recruits

(By Associated Press.)
CANTON, Ohio, April 15.—Fifteen marchers made up the rank and file of "General" Jacob Coxey's "army" of unemployed when it fell in line today. A large crowd saw the "general" and his army assemble the "army" from Socialist hall and from nearby saloons to make the start on the second leg of the pilgrimage to Washington.

"Lieutenant" Anderson, the "army" recruiting officer, had checked the last night scouring the brick yards and railroad tracks near Canton in an effort to secure more recruits and save out the names and addresses of twenty-eight men who had agreed to march today but only fifteen appeared.

While the members of the army curled upon bench or floor in the Socialist hall last night, "General" Coxey and his son, David, slept in a hotel. The "general" mule was quartered in a livery barn.

In spite of the meager proportions of the "army" Coxey says he has no intention of giving up the march to Washington.

CHARGE TITLES ARE "AGED" IN GRAFT GEORGIA LANDS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
DALTON, Ga., April 17.—Urging that the federal government be made to realize the matter that it may be remedied, the grand jury, in the general premonitions made yesterday afternoon, stated that it had been brought to their attention that "certain persons are attempting to defraud by going back and manufacturing titles to lands and selling them by aid of chemical and entering them and recording them in the clerk's office, with intention to defraud present owners of certain land in the northern counties of the state."

The jury, before adjourning, elected W. C. Martin, of this city; W. J. Green, of Tunnel Hill, and W. H. Frater, of Varnell, as members of the board of education.

In the recommendations the body urges that stock-holding plants be installed in the public buildings of the county.

The young girl failed to tell her father of the attack until 9 o'clock Thursday night, saying that the man had threatened her life if she told.

The police were immediately notified and a diligent search is being instituted.

DO YOU BELONG TO THE NINETENTHS?

"Of the men in the United States, nine-tenths are in debt."

Do you belong to the nine-tenths that are living on a cash basis? All about us are traceable directly to the "credit" system of living, which often brings discredit to its votaries.

We often hear that such a one is living beyond his income.

Then comes the inevitable "crash."

And why? Simply because the "credit" system allows a man not only to spend money before he earns it, but more than he can earn. That is just one way to be sure you are living within your income—the only safe way to live—and that is never to buy anything until you can pay cash for it.

MANY LAWYERS BELIEVE FRANK MOTION IS SOUND

Dorsey Not Disturbed - Dr. Harris' Testimony Favorable to State

The move of the defense of Leo M. Frank in asking that the verdict of guilty be set aside and declared null and void on the ground that Frank was not present in the court room when the verdict was rendered, is causing much discussion among lawyers and laymen alike. The opinion that the motion can be sustained in the courts.

After consulting under a microscope the specimen taken from the lute and the specimen taken from the hair of Mary Phagan, when the body was examined, Dr. Harris said: "The specimen removed each other so much that it was impossible for me to say definitely that there was a difference in shade."

"The difference in shade appeared to be a slight difference in shade and place, but no difference in texture. It is determined by the naked eye and there was not enough hair given me by the collector's assistant to make an accurate estimate of color. I have examined several persons. I find that the individual hair taken from the head of the same individual differs in shade as the hair given me by the collector's assistant and the hair of Mary Phagan."

It is said that at this point in his examination Dr. Harris plucked two hairs from the head of Commissioner P. O. Smith, and pointed out a difference in shade and color in them to the defense.

Answering questions Dr. Harris said: "I told the collector it was my impression that the two specimens were different, but I was careful to say that as I was not certain of the difference, I thought this conversation occurred in my office when I appeared to attach no importance to the examination nor did I find that the specimens were significantly different in shade and possibly in texture."

"I did not specifically say the specimens were not the same."

CLASH OF DEFENSE. In the extraordinary motion the defense alleges that Dr. Harris offered to let Dr. E. T. Dorsey, brother of the accused, examine the specimens to determine whether his opinion was correct.

Answering questions, Dr. Harris said that a few days before the trial he discussed his work in the case with the collector, Dr. Dorsey and several others.

I recall that I talked to Dr. Dorsey about my work in a general way, and I said that I had told Dr. Dorsey that he could examine the specimens if he so desired.

Dr. Harris says there were probably some strands of hair, although he did not count them, which were handed him as having come from the metal room. He took about 100 strands from the head of Mary Phagan.

Dr. Harris says he returned the strands of hair to the collector's assistant.

HARRIS STUDIES HAIR. Dr. Harris said Dr. Harris has recently made a comparative study of the hair and that probably he will be used as a witness in the case when the defense theory that the hair on the specimens was not the same as the hair on the body of Mary Phagan.

Dr. Harris said he was not returned to the city Friday and was in the Fulton county jail during the day. He was released on Friday morning.

Frank received numbers of letters and congratulatory telegrams from some of the members of the jury, and some from people who do not know him. He received a number of gifts as well. Throughout the day his friends were calling at the tower to see him.

Frank's air of confidence has never left him and Friday he seemed in better health and spirits than usual. He still charged with life. However it was believed the case would be gone within two or three days.

PAYS LARGE SUM FOR LETTERS OF JOHN ELIOT

Many Other Valuable Documents and Manuscripts Went Under Hammer

NEW YORK, April 17.—At the first session of the sale of the autograph letters, historical documents and manuscripts from the collections of William Nelson, of Peterson, N. J., which were yesterday George D. Smith offered for $2,495 the four autograph letters of John Eliot, "The Apostle to the Indians." These letters, written to the Rev. Jonathan Haver in 1625, dealing with Eliot's own life, are said to be the rarest autographs in the history of the American nation.

Eliot's most notable work was his translation of the Bible into the language of the vanished Natick nation. The letters are dated from Roxbury, where from which place he made his visits to the Indians.

Mr. Smith also gave $50 for Invoice of goods sent on the Mayflower of Boston (Master Thomas M. Webster for Boston). In New England consigned under the John Eliot, master of the ship, for Mr. Jonathan Haver with cost and charges. This is a one-page folio, dated 1622.

A large vote was cast against the proposed new county of Tate. The count of the movement is at Fairmount which would become the new county seat. The matter will be again before the legislature this summer when it will be finally settled.

Various literary contests will be participated in by the many schools throughout the district for the boys and girls. An athletic meet will be one of the features, and it is expected that some high school records will be made.

PITTSBURGH, April 17.—According to the sworn testimony of Henry Penny, who, United States marshal, issued the banner northwest wind in Pittsburgh before the afternoon of May 21, 1914, when it reached a velocity of 41 miles an hour. This testimony was developed in a suit for damages brought by George S. Martin against a property holder who said he had been blown down in falling struck Martin. Attorneys for the defendant, J. H. COLUMBIA BANKS SHOW TOTAL OF $1,887,500

Their Capital and Surplus
Were Stated Incorrectly by
Journal as $445,000

The following letter from Joseph Wood, president of the Union National bank of Columbia, S. C., sets forth without need of further explanation a correction of certain figures which appeared in the Journal last after the announcement that Atlanta had won the regional bank for this district.

Re: Columbia, S. C., April 14, 1914.

The Journal's editorial of April 14, 1914, our attention has just been called to an error in some figures on page 16 of your issue of the 14th inst. You state that the capital and surplus of the national banks of Columbia amount to $110,000. Figures taken from published statements of January 15, 1914, which is the date you claim for your figures, are as follows:

Capital & Surplus
Carolina National Bank	$400,000
National Loan and Exchange	650,000
Palmetto National Bank	250,000
National State Bank	200,000
Union National Bank	187,500
Total	$1,887,500

You also badly misstate the individual deposits. The following is a statement of the individual deposits from reports to the controller of the currency of January 15, 1914:

Carolina National Bank	$1,250,000
National Loan and Exchange	200,000
Palmetto National Bank	1,750,000
National State Bank	2,750,000
Union National Bank	2,750,000
Total	$10,000,000

One national bank alone has had for the past ten years more than $2,000,000 in deposits, and your figures are far from the whole city.

Yours very truly,
JOSEPH WOOD,
President.

Friday night will mark the opening of St. Paul's Methodist church of the city, which is being held in the city. The revival will run for a week. The people of St. Paul's are working enthusiastically to make the series of meetings notable.

The other Methodist churches of the city, and in fact, the Protestant evangelical bodies generally are invited by Dr. E. O. Ekeell, the pastor, to co-operate in the work, and the public is cordially invited to be present at the services.

The principal speaker for Friday night, Saturday and Sunday will be Bishop John C. Kilgo, one of the great leaders in southern Methodism, who arrived in Atlanta Friday morning.

Among the other arrivals today was Prof. E. O. Ekeell, the famous revival singer who was associated for many years with the late Sam Jones. Prof. Ekeell will have charge of all the music at these services and will direct a special chorus choir.

Bishop Kilgo will preach six times between now and Sunday night, at the following services: Friday night at 7:45 o'clock, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, Saturday night at 7:45, Sunday at 11 o'clock, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and Sunday night. The pastor of the church, Rev. B. F. Fraser, will preside at all the meetings.

Monday morning, Dr. Plato Durham, the noted pulpit orator, will arrive from Charlotte to assist Dr. Fraser and Bishop Kilgo and early in the week Dr. Charles L. Goodell, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, New York, and the man Collier's Weekly recently described as the greatest preacher on this continent, will also be here to participate in the services.

All the meetings will be held in St. Paul's church, corner of Grant and Sidney streets. The Woodward Avenue car Grant park car stops at the church door, while the Grant Hunter to Grant park, and the Georgia avenue to Grant park cars, pass within a short block or two from the church.

(By Associated Press.)
OSWEGO, N. Y., April 12.—An instance of the intelligence and nobility of a horse was revealed today when the body of Frank Hanson was found face downward in a brook near here. A blanket was so wrapped about him that he had been unable to save himself after falling.

Over Hanson stood his team, one of the animals having remained for many hours without being able to place one of its feet to the ground as Hanson's body was under the hoof and the horses were unable to move freely in the tangled harness.

NEW YORK APARTMENT FIRE COSTS 11 LIVES

Inmates of Theatrical Boarding House Are Trapped by Flames

NEW YORK, April 12.—A fire that swept through a five story apartment house at 741 Eighth avenue today claimed eleven victims and resulted in the serious injury of four others, one of whom, a woman, will die.

Only four of the eleven bodies taken from a theatrical boarding house that occupied half of the building could be identified, the others being charred beyond recognition. The identified dead are:

William Wallace, 46 years old; Mrs. Nellie Wallace, his wife; Mrs. Nellie Spencer, a cloak model; and Muriel Davis, three years old; Mrs. George C. Davis.

The injured are: Joseph Mosser, Martin Welsh and Charles Burke. Mrs. Davis sustained informal injuries and probably will die. The others are less seriously injured.

The fire started in a pile of waste in the basement of a five and ten cent store which occupies the ground floor of the building. It spread rapidly and shut off escape by the stairways. There were no fire escapes in the front of the building and the large number of dead and injured was due to the refusal of panic-stricken people to remain in the front windows, where many were rescued by firemen. All of the dead and injured were taken from the rear rooms and halls, where they were caught while attempting to reach the roof and fire escapes.

One man was killed in trying to escape over roof.

The fire was under control in less than an hour, but in that time many thrilling rescues were made by the firemen working from ladders in front and from windows of a nearby tenement building.

Captain Smith, who was suspended by his feet from a window, prevented Louis Boylan from being dashed to death when a ladder broke on which he was crawling. From the tenement, Captain Smith seized Boylan and held on to him until both could be dragged to safety.

F. C. WYSE IS HEAD OF WATER AND LIGHT MEN

Association Extends Scope to Include Members From Entire South

The Tri-State water and light association of the Carolinas and Georgia elected officers at its annual convention at the Piedmont Hotel Friday morning and unanimously adopted resolutions giving the executive committee power to change the name as to embrace all the southern states in the organization.

This will mean that instead of the seven or eight hundred members, the association now boasts from Georgia, North and South Carolina, there will be at least three thousand from every Dixie state east of the Mississippi and that the convention next year at Asheville, N. C., chosen for that honor Friday morning, will see one of the biggest crowds in the association's history.

The Atlanta convention, all the delegates agree, has been the best in the association's four years' history. More and bigger business has been transacted and the social features under the able direction of B. Frank Egan, chairman of the entertainment committee, have given the delegates one of the best times of their lives.

The officers elected Friday were as follows:

F. C. Wyse of Columbus, S. C., president; J. W. Neave of Salisbury, N. C., first vice president; Hugh Hill of West Point, Ga., second vice president; F. E. Egan of Augusta, Ga., third vice president; J. C. Barnett of Rock Hill, S. C., secretary and treasurer for the association; R. F. Egan of Atlanta, Ga., secretary and treasurer for Georgia; F. E. Egan of Augusta, Ga., secretary and treasurer for South Carolina; Will Blackwell of Greenville, S. C., secretary and treasurer for North Carolina.

"Serious injury to the industrial development of the south can be prevented by adopting right measures now," said Mr. Graves. "The national forest reservation commission has approved the purchase of 120,000 acres in South Carolina at a cost of $125,157 and of 26,132 acres in Georgia at a cost of $42,243. These government forests, however, will form only a small portion of the forest which much be protected. A considerable number of states have made a beginning to meet this problem."

Mr. Graves said the engineer and the farmer must work hand in hand if our river system is to be converted from a source of danger and expense to one of the highest usefulness.

The south today is standing on the threshold of a vast industrial development. The extent of this development and consequently the advancement and prosperity of the south itself depend largely on two factors: The production of raw material from the farms, forests and mines, and the protection and development of water resources. The south is preeminently favored in both respects. It is not merely the great amount of navigable waters stretching far back into the different states, available for cheap transportation, but vast water power which are rapidly transforming the south into a manufacturing as well as an agricultural section.

At 1 o'clock Friday afternoon the convention adjourned and the delegates were taken to automobiles for a city tour that included visits to the federal prison, the cyclorama at South's park, the Hemphill water works, the sewage disposal plant, the Atlanta gas light company plant, and the plant of the Georgia Railway and Power company.

At 5 o'clock the automobiles will bring them to the waterworks, where they will be served by a luncheon in a bar.

The convention resumed Friday night to hear addresses by W. Dawson Collier and W. M. Lambuth, both of Atlanta. Friday morning, Mr. R. F. Egan of Atlanta, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company, addressed the convention.

One of the most interesting addresses was that of Henry S. Graves, forester of the department of agriculture, who counselled the members of the south generally to prevent serious injury to the industrial developments by affording better protection for the forests, farms and mineral resources. He praised the marked advance in industrial enterprise which had been evident in the south, and believed conditions of today only approached the threshold of possible development.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The good work of the naval tug Patuxent in assisting the schooner Augusta W. Shaw to meet after she had been in collision about fifty miles east of Cape Henry, Va., recently, is praised in a letter to the navy department today from the president of the South Shipping company, of New York. The schooner was in a waterlogged condition when picked up by the Patuxent. The naval tug soon had her under tow and brought her to Newport News for repairs.

HOTEL STEWARD SAYS N. Y. IS DANCE MAD

R. J. Fischel Asserts Cabarets Are Open and Many Give Dance Prizes

New York City like Atlanta is dance mad, according to Edward R. J. Fischel, steward of the Piedmont hotel, who returned from the east this week after making arrangements for additional hotel during grand opera week and the Shrine convention.

"Reports sent out from the metropolis," said Mr. Fischel, "to the effect that the cabaret has passed are absolutely untrue. This feature is still sharing universal popularity with the afternoon and evening dancing. At the principal cafes both forms of amusement are employed jointly. There is a stage for the cabaret performers and after each appearance the dancers are allowed to dance, dancing, of course, is not allowed during a cabaret act."

"A number of the hotels are now offering prizes in dancing contests and the competition for the trophies is keener than one could imagine. The craze is really more pronounced now than a year ago."

LANDLORDS OF CHICAGO BLACKLIST 80,000 FOLK

CHICAGO, April 17.—More than 80,000 persons in Chicago will be unable to move May 1, the annual spring moving day in this city, because of the unwillingness of landlords to receive them as tenants, according to a statement by an official of the Landlords' Information and Protective bureau.

From 20,000 to 25,000 persons are evicted every year for non-payment of their rent," said the official.

"More than 80,000 persons have been evicted by their landlords. We kept the names of such tenants on our books. Other lists are obtained by working with real estate men and with neighbors of undesirable tenants. This information is given to landlords for their protection."

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid food daily, and yet still do not increase in weight one ounce. The reason is that the food is not properly digested. It is not absorbed into the system. It is all thrown off in the stool.

This folks say this because their power of assimilation is defective. They are just enough of the food they eat to make life and a measure of health and strength. Stuffing will not help them. A man may eat a lot of food and yet be thin. The reason is that the food is not properly digested. It is not absorbed into the system. It is all thrown off in the stool.

The Great Gift Of Thrift

Go into the home of the right living workingman--if you want to see thrift. Shake hands with some of the neat, busy little housewives and see what the great gift of thrift can do.

"I tell you," said Simon Straus, a prominent Chicago banker, president of the Society for the Promotion of Thrift, "if every family knew the value of thrift, grass and tall weeds would be growing all over the road to the poor house."

Thrift people find out pretty quick that Day's Credit Plan means money saved. It's the people that haven't learned the great gift of thrift that we want to meet--we have something mighty interesting to tell them.

There isn't any question about it, Day's Dignified Credit Plan for keeping yourself well clothed inspires and creates a lively thrift. It's simple--small payment down--payments to suit your income. That's all--TRY IT.

SHRINERS FROM CANADA WILL ARRIVE IN NUMBERS

Many Pilgrims Will Come to Atlanta on Special Trains for Convention

Another trainload of Canadians in the pilgrimage of North American Shriners to Atlanta next month is announced by the Shriners temple, of London, Ont., Canada.

At Ashar temple, of Calgary, Alberta province, sent advance news several weeks ago of the special train in which it expects to come, with about half a dozen Canadian pilgrims. Not comes Mocha temple, from another part of the dominion, with word that it will have so many pilgrims that it will be so enthusiastic that nothing but a special train will satisfy them. Big times all along the way to Atlanta and the way back home are set down in the program of Mocha. The pilgrims will be as numerous as the sheep the Canadians make. They will have about their train while here, the same as they have in the "rail-road city."

The attendance of Canadians promises to be bigger at the Atlanta meeting than it has been at any Imperial council gathering for a number of years past. The reason for this is said to be that Atlanta and the south along their way know around home. The pilgrimage will bring them into new lands.

For this same reason, apparently, the attendance will be very large from some sections of the United States—the northwest and the extreme northwest, where winter still has things in a grip of ice and snow. A series of temples from the prairie just below the Canadian border are coming on one special train—Billard of Sioux Falls, El Kahid of Cedar Rapids, and Za Cha of Des Moines. The westerners have arranged a big dining saloon, which includes Louisville, Mammoth Cave, Nashville and its own scenes of war—and of course everything there is to be seen and around Atlanta.

But the southerners will be here in big number, too, for they look on the Atlanta gathering as a fine opportunity for meeting many brother Shriners whom they might otherwise never see. Mocha of Jacksonville is coming full force. So also are the temples of Nashville, Memphis, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Charlotte, Savannah and other nearby southern cities. Only enough Shriners will be left at home to give welcome to the passing pilgrims from other parts.

Three weeks from Saturday will find the first of the big delegations in Atlanta. The city is preparing for them already. A number of electric illuminations are in place. Shrine colors have begun to appear. Shrine emblems are blooming in flower beds on lawns, and the city has begun to take on a fresh new dress that spring enhances.

SOME LITTLE GIRL TO APPEAR WITH FARRAR

Opera Star Needs 5-Year-Old to Play Baby in "Madame Butterfly"

Miss Geraldine Farrar has written the Music Festival association that when she appears in "Madame Butterfly" on Friday night of opera week, it will be not only with the all star Metropolitan but in addition with another charming little temporary member of the Metropolitan Opera company who is to be chosen from among the children of Atlanta.

The opportunity will be given to one little girl about five years old to appear before the footlight side by side with the greatest living American star and share with her the plaudits of 6,000 people at the auditorium.

It will be recalled that in the plot the beautiful Puccini opera Cio-Cio-San appears in the latter part of the opera in a most pathetic and powerfully dramatic scene with the little child whom she loves waving an American flag, while she sacrifices her life for duty.

It is to take this part that a small Atlanta girl will be chosen. A preliminary selection will be made on next Monday, April 20, at 10 o'clock in the morning in Taff Hall at the auditorium, and mothers who have a little

In this section of the country as a tinker. He said he was near Opelousas about the time the child disappeared. When the defense attorneys began to question Linder, who is deaf and unable to understand the questions clearly, he had to have him asked to answer the question if he ever said he had been mistaken for the Dunbar family. So many women are attending the hearings that Judge Favy, of the district court here, has permitted them to sit within the bar and upon the rostrum.

ORGANIZE COMMITTEES FOR GRADY BOND ISSUE

Organizations and Citizens to Work Industiously for Greater Hospital

Selection has been made of twenty or more permanent and active citizens to each of Atlanta's ten wards to constitute the Grady hospital bond movement. This will give the movement an active working committee of between 200 and 300 citizens, who will make the most efforts to the success of the bond issue, and who will be on hand on election day for the final and most important work of the campaign.

These appointed on one ward committee will be called to meet in the small chamber one afternoon early in the week for the purpose of organizing and at this meeting a chairman will be selected for each ward committee. These chairmen will constitute the central working committee which will give direction to the forces of the ward organizations.

At this meeting Dr. W. B. Summerville will make a brief speech outlining the needs of Grady hospital, and Mayor Woodward and Captain J. W. English will make short addresses. The meeting will be presided over by Bishop Nelson.

Following their weekly meeting Thursday, at which they heard an address from Dr. Summerville relative to conditions at Grady hospital, the Atlanta club of Atlanta decided to lend its best efforts to the success of the bond movement.

The club will also be held to help for the bonds. This club was, in fact, the last of the club to be organized, and the agitation for better hospital facilities in Atlanta.

A regular meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce held last evening, at which the resolutions were adopted by unanimous vote endorsing the Grady hospital bond movement, and the new building of it the support of the chamber.

The chamber of commerce has furnished to the bond committee its financial statement, and it is anticipated that it will be the success of the bond issue.

This follows the recent unanimous endorsement of the Atlanta Clearing House association, and it is anticipated that practically every civic body in Atlanta will get behind the hospital movement and work for the success of the bonds.

Citizens of Atlanta who have any doubt whatever as to the needs of Grady hospital should go and see it. Dr. Summerville would be glad to show any one who desire firsthand information as to what conditions at the hospital are.

The new building which is the only modern feature of the entire institution, is now so badly overcrowded that patients are kept in rows of cots upon the porches.

The club women of the city are actively supplementing the work that is being done by the citizens' committee and others who are interested in the movement for a greater Grady hospital.

Following the call last Monday of Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, president of the Federation of Clubs, the various organizations have been passing resolutions of commendation for the bond movement at their various meetings.

The Atlanta Trust Building association Thursday pledged itself to aid in the movement.

The Daughters of the Confederacy also pledged themselves Thursday to work for the bond issue, and in doing the movement being passed after Mrs. William McEachern, president of the hospital plan to the members.

The Daughters of the American Revolution and the Parent-Teachers' association have also pledged their support.

Missionaries to Speak

Rev. Howard Van Dyke and Mrs. Van Dyke, both of whom are returned missionaries from Japan, will speak Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at Alliance tabernacle at 79 Capitol avenue. The meeting will be of a treasuring one, and a large attendance expected.

"Snuff! Snuff!" Cried Officers as Burlesquers Clinched for Soul Kiss

"The school boy's kiss was mild enough. The husband's returning kiss was burlesque. The lover's kiss was a bit. But the soul kiss broke up the show."

Thus Special Officer E. L. Arthur explained to Recorder Broyles Friday morning just why he made cases against Geo. Mortimer and Mrs. F. W. Kennedy for the stunt they pulled on the stage at the Old Mill, a Whitehall street burlesque show, last Monday night.

It was this kissing by degree stunt that did it, he told the court. "When the school boy kiss and asked 'Snuff!' Then he gave the returning husband's kiss and she still said 'Snuff!' The audience was silent when he gave the lover's kiss and she said 'That's better.' But when they clinched and yelled 'Snuff!' Break away!"

Mortimer and Mrs. Kennedy pleaded with the recorder that their stunt was not an adaptation of one in Ziegfeld's Follies, but Judge Broyles held that what a group for a Police crowd is no good for a burlesque and fined them $25.75 each.

ture of Exemption

An Appeal to Reason

Who passes judgment for you on your physical, civic and religious beliefs? Then, why not do your own investigating on this health question? See for yourself the part bile plays in your physical make-up.

Every authority concedes that bile is the element that purifies and disintegrates the food and channels it. Pure food for the blood means a healthy body. Food poor for the blood is impossible without a free flow of bile.

DoLaX Releases the Bile

"DoLaX," from Podophyllin, the medicine for May Apple Root. In biblical times it was called "Mandrake."

"DoLaX," from Laxative, meaning to release gently without the purging, cathartic action of other bile starters. DoLaX is the name.

INTERESTING GOSSIP OF INTERESTING PEOPLE

Woman's part in the life of this country, past, present and future, will be told in living pictures at the pageant which will be played by the Mutual Girl society women and many others.

Beginning with Miss Beulah Edmondson, a real Indian girl, who, as an Indian chief's wife, will be the center of the first picture illustrative of the days before the white man came, and ending with Mrs. Ines Milholland Bolestein as the woman of the future, the leading part will all be played by women. That doesn't mean that there will be no men in the living pictures. Men are needed if only to show how they used to treat women, how they behave toward them now and how they will ought to act in the future. Most of the men chosen were selected for the correctness of their figure as well as of their views, but the homely men are to have a chance as Indians.

Miss Hazel Mackay, who staged the suffrage dance on the capitol steps at Washington, is the author of the pageant, and the music to which the women past, present and future will pass in review was written by Miss Bertha Beck, of Boston.

The central idea of the pageant, said C. S. Beadle, chairman of the pageant committee, "is the impotence of women in the United States in spite of their usefulness to the community."

So in the first picture, which will be played, the Indian woman going about her camp tasks, doing the hard work, while the men amuse themselves with trading and fighting. Miss Edith Watkins as a chief's daughter will portray the brighter side of this period for women by an Indian woman.

In the second period picture a party of Puritan women enter by women. That is the dramatic scene.

There will follow pictures of the colonial period and of the Civil war. In the latter Uncle Sam will appear, giving the vote to Susan B. Anthony after giving the franchise to women.

One of the interesting scenes in this part will be the return from the war of the Seventy-first regiment, for which it is said the suffrage workers have borrowed the whole seventy-first.

Next come pictures of present day conditions, men and women working side by side in occupations and professions. The law invites all to enter the State, but when they step forward bars all except the women of the suffrage States. In the distance is heard martial music and there appears Mrs. James Lee Edith, leading of suffrage parade. The spokeswomen calls on the voiceless women to "Hail to our standard," promising to help them.

In the sixth and last picture, the future, the men and women of the State, come march in, led by Mrs. Bolestein, Justice (Mrs. W. B. Kinsler) gives them a huge volume, "The Law," and as they hold this aloft the States march in and with them come in rainbow colors, expressing in graceful dance steps the complete happiness of the new day.

Following closely upon the heels of the annual Fifth Avenue Easter parade and the numerous department store exhibitions of dress styles, the Winter Garden will have a Fashion Review that in many respects will prove unusual. Over 500 of the most prominent actresses and women writers for the stage will attend the special matinee at the Winter garden, witnessing the performance of "The World of the World" and at the same time displaying their very latest and most stunning outfits. The actresses will also be given the opportunity to prove that they can do as well in the theatre as they can as they do while behind the footlights, and they will vie with the professional models who will be on hand from a number of the leading Fifth Avenue modistes.

The boxes will be occupied by the leading Broadway stars, opera singers from the Metropolitan and Century opera houses, Norma Phillips, the Mutual Girl, society women and many others.

Tea to Visitor

Miss Irene Smith was hostess at tea, Friday afternoon, at her home on Piedmont avenue, in honor of Mrs. Edwin S. Moore.

The drawing room, where the receiving party stood, was attractive with a profusion of wild flowers. The den in which the punch was served had a canopy of daisy blossoms over the punch bowl, which was banked with vast quantities of flowers.

A tall green wicker basket, holding pink roses and ferns and around which were four silver vases filled with the same flowers, formed the decoration of the dining room table.

Miss Smith was gowned in blue charmeuse with over drapery of black lace. Mrs. Moore wore black satin and chautauk lace, with corsage of pink roses.

Miss Smith was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John Cooper, Mrs. Marvin Davies, Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. Charles Whitaker, Mrs. J. B. Christopher, Mrs. David Morgan and Mrs. E. Carledge.

Miss Annie Whitford Hill, Miss Emma Hill, Miss Naomi Hamilton, Miss Ruth Moody and Miss Miriam Clarke served punch.

The officers follow:

Mrs. J. M. Slaton, president; Mrs. John L. Meek, vice president; Florence B. Gardner, secretary; T. S. Flanagan, treasurer.

The members of the board include Mrs. J. M. Van Harlingen, Mrs. William J. Lowenstein, Mrs. L. W. Rogers, Mrs. Forrest Adair, Mrs. Ben Lee Gray, Mrs. F. T. Brown, Miss Edith Bolen and Mrs. W. C. Jarman.

INTERESTING WEDDINGS PERSONAL MENTION

McMillan-Lopez

A beautiful home wedding was that of Miss Irene Lopez and Mr. Howard McMillan, which took place Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hinton Lopez, on Piedmont avenue.

The bride party entered the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed. An aisle formed of white satin ribbons held by the bride's brother, Mr. John Lopez, and her cousin, Mr. Robert Campbell.

The matron of honor and bridesmaid were Miss Josephine Hinton, Miss Dorothy DeLeon and Master John Hinton, flower children.

The wedding was a very pretty gown of mauve cloth, the short coat opening over a blouse of rare lace. Her hat was a late spring model, and her corsage was of orchids and lilacs. The bride wore the ribbon braids, both of which were white. Her dress and pink ribbons. Rev. Rauschenberg, of the College Park Presbyterian church, performed the impressive ceremony.

The bride's return from an extended trip through Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Winton will make their home in Brunswick.

Sheldon-Hodgson

The wedding of Mrs. Sallie Lowe Hodgson and Mrs. Charles Holmes Sheldon, of Brunswick, was an event of Wednesday at high noon, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. O. Stillman, in College Park.

The house was attractively decorated with an array of spring flowers, and the ceremony was held before an improvised altar of palms flanked on each side with tall, graceful Easter lilies. Pink carnations and pale pink Killarney roses were used in the wedding where the wedding breakfast was served.

McWhirter-Windsor

A wedding of much interest was that of Miss Georgia Ann Windsor and Mr. G. Clifton McWhirter, which took place Thursday evening at the home of the bride's father, Mr. A. Windsor, on North Boulevard.

The theme was artistically decorated with palms, ferns, and baskets of white lilies.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. B. O'Kelley, and only attendant was Mr. Bayne Gibson, who served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in her traveling dress of midnight blue serge with hat to match, and carried bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. McWhirter left immediately after the ceremony on their wedding trip, and will later be at home in Macon.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. L. Baldwin and Miss Belle Lowery, of Dawson; Mr. A. H. Hix of Smithville, and Misses Lois and Ruby Whittier, of Comer.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1914.

According to astrology this is an uncertain day in which it will be well to exercise caution. Although Saturn is in benefic aspect Venus and Uranus are adverse.

It is held as a most unlucky time for weddings. Persons married on this day should guard against unhappiness due to erratic moods and changeable emotions.

The conditions are not favorable for journeys. Vehicles propelled by electricity are especially to be avoided. Judges, merchants, artists, musicians and authors are subject to influences that may hamper and irritate them. They should postpone all matters of importance.

There is a forbidding sign for hotel keepers, managers of restaurants and confectioners. The stars promise heavy losses for many who have profited from the stars which have encouraged dancing and cabaret performances. This same sign is read as indicating loss for moving picture theaters.

This is a day believed to be lucky for old persons, who are supposed to be susceptible to the rule of Saturn. Miners, real estate men, farmers and all who gain their livelihood directly from the soil are subject to lucky rule under this configuration.

Night workers and all persons engaged in laborious employments should benefit.

The stars are especially friendly to those engaged in business, carpenters, barbers, wool-spinners, bakers of bread, pilots, drivers and toll gatherers.

There is a lucky omen for those who dwell on the water, for builders of warships, water carriers and captains.

Under this government persons who have practiced severe self denial are believed to enjoy benefit.

Persons whose birthdate it is about to make any changes in business or domestic environment will be disappointed. They may have disappointments in their affections or illness in their families.

Children born on this day may be business in nature, but are prone to change and careless in business affairs. They may be trained to careers of great usefulness, however, for they should be alert in mind and adaptable.

State Federation To Meet in Albany

ALBANY, Ga., April 18.—The Albany Women's club will conduct a "whirlwind campaign" in this city Tuesday and Wednesday to raise $400 needed to complete the fund to entertain the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs, which meets in this city next October.

The business section of the city will be divided among sub-committees of the women's club, and each section will be thoroughly canvassed for subscriptions to the fund. A number of well known business men have been requested and have consented to assist the ladies in their campaign.

Measuring Party

The Philanthropic Society of Albany Sunday school will entertain at a measuring party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jim on Gillette street, Monday at 8 o'clock in the evening, for the benefit of the cause.

A special program has been arranged. The public is cordially invited to attend.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS.—The very mention of rustling silks brings into the fashion that we thought were laid in lavender. Possibly we thought them dead, for the modern mind does not conceive of returning to anything it has done with at the laugh of the fashion and yet history proves that it goes back to them as a dog to a bone it has buried.

The incoming popularity for stiff silks is more apparent than one thinks who glances at the surface of things. Revelations do not take place in a day, and they are not put out in the fashion which all importance has been given and when they are in full swing, words have their beginning far off in some fact and opinions do not put them out.

There has been a strong feeling toward a direct change in woman's apparel and those who have had their ears to the ground have been able to read all the slight signs that pointed to the overflow of the present conditions.

The manufacture of rustling, or stiff silks, was an important link in the chain of facts, to change the simile. Certain kinds of gowns were to be in fashion, and certain stiff silhouettes, sharply cut, were to come into vogue, and the manufacturer gave the women into the designers' hands.

Colors Are Old-Fashioned. The colors that have been chosen by the dress for many of the new fabrics are in thorough accord, or rather harmony, with the old. There are many russet browns, sage blues, claret reds, rusty greens, and deep blues, all of which are a direct change from the glaring Orientalism of the past two years.

When one walks into an assembly of women who are dressed in these new colors, one has a queer feeling that it is not all right; that the dead have come to life; that one sees as in a trance misty alluring shadows from the days of sixty and seven, and they will vanish when one wakes up. This is not life, one says, but a dream or a stage setting, surely fashionable women do not appear like this.

But they do appear like this, and, little by little, the ranks increase. The women in these gowns don't look demure; if the women who wore these colors before had such faces as the women who wear them now, pictorial history is untruthful.

Today, women have the witchery and the allurements and the high daring in their faces that they had during the Revolution in England and the days of the recent in America. There is nothing Victorian about the modern face, and it looks somewhat out of place when placed between the Watteau hat and the 1875 russet brown silk.

Verdigris A New Color. One of the favorite silks over here goes by the name of verdigris, and its color is just what is implied. It is a greenish blue, and it is already having much prestige. Its dull green brown tones are touched up with a cream lace and sometimes tea-traited tulle.

Remember none of these silks are carried near the face. Even when they are made up into the high-necked basques, there is an unusually wide collar of maulin or lace to keep the tone away from the face.

One of the happy features of the modern fashion is that it allows the bodies to be cut away in front to show a drape of white.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thorton W. Burgess

No one had enjoyed the joke on Reddy Fox more than had Jumper the Hare. It had tickled Jumper almost to pieces to think that he who was accounted the most timid of all the little people in the Green Forest, should have been able to frighten Reddy Fox. Of course, it was Buster Bear who had given Reddy his first fright and made him put his tail first between his legs and start for home as fast as he could run, but it was Jumper the Hare who had started Reddy right at his heels and had made Reddy think that he was Buster Bear and so frightened him still more, so that he didn't dare stop long enough to turn and see who it was behind him. Of course, to all day was running away from Jumper the Hare, and every one pretended to believe that he was. After a day or two Reddy and made life miserable for him by calling him a coward, afraid of Jumper the Hare, and things like that.

Reddy had fallen into a terrible rage at first and had tried his very best to catch his tormentors. But after a while he saw that the angrier he grew the better pleased were his tormentors. It was just what they wanted—to make him angry. Only Jumper the Hare took care not to have anything to do with him.

He kept out of Reddy's way. He had no mind to make Reddy any angrier than he really was. "You see, Jumper never goes looking for trouble of his own kind," he said. "You see, indeed! He tries his very hardest to keep out of trouble. And so he kept away from Reddy Fox."

Now, Reddy Fox is, as you know, very, very silly and slow. After a little while he began to realize how foolish it was for him to get so angry, or anyway to show that he was so angry. He thought his neighbors plagued him about running away from Jumper the Hare. So no matter how angry might fill his heart, he would pretend not to mind the jokes, but all the time would be just boiling inside. Now, after a while Jumper had been all against those who called him names and who teased him, but as he thought it over little by little his anger turned against Jumper the Hare.

If Jumper hadn't run after him no one would have laughed at him, for nearly every one had been so much of him, but as he thought it over little by little his anger turned against Jumper the Hare. If Jumper hadn't run after him no one would have laughed at him, for nearly every one had been so much of him, but as he thought it over little by little his anger turned against Jumper the Hare.

Now, of course, the other little people didn't know this. They thought that they were making life very miserable for Jumper the Hare. Not one of them ever stopped to think that when trouble is made for one it almost always hurts some one else. They thought that they were making Reddy Fox very miserable, as indeed they were, but it never entered their heads that they were also making life very miserable for Jumper the Hare. But they were. Yes, all were. If they had had Reddy alone he would have let Jumper alone. But as it was, he just grew more and more determined that he would catch Jumper. So he spent all his spare time trying to think of some plan whereby he could catch Peter Rabbit's big cousin, Jumper, who always was very, very timid, grew more than ever and wished with all his heart that he had not played that joke on Reddy Fox, which had made him so much of the Green Forest and the Green Forest.
